

To Morgana

You are to me like a wave, that shakes me impetuously and then slowly retires, leaving me on the shoal.

You are to me like a fire.
The stake of my heart,
projects in the universe sparkles of passion.

You are the earth that will receive me after this life,
to continue the walk towards eternity.

We will be two hawks in the wind, with throbbing wings and restless eyes staring at the infinite.
